• Over 1,000 studied dance at one of five sites this year. Over half of our students were on full scholarship, receiving dance instruction, shoes, clothing and audition coaching free of charge.

• TAYB completed its 3rd year of expanded after school programming offering dance, homework assistance, and reading classes at all four satellite locations.

• This summer, TAYB helped 15 advanced students participate in Summer Dance Intensives in prestigious schools throughout the country, including Dance Theatre of Harlem, Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre, Joffrey Ballet, Martha Graham Dance Company, Pacific Northwest Ballet, and Perry Masfield Performing Arts School. Locally, students participated in daily summer camp at each of TAYB’s five locations.

• Over 8,000 attended TAYB’s 2017 production of the Nutcracker, including an inclusive, Sensory-Friendly performance geared toward families with children that have Autism Spectrum Disorders.

• The 2017 Spring Concert was themed around the dance styles and history from 1950-1980, and featured choreography and performances by several outstanding alums.

• Beginning this year, TAYB launched a new collaboration with the Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts and Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre. Students who participate in the Center’s Ailey Camp during the summer will now be able to continue their dance training on scholarship with TAYB throughout the year.
Each year we proudly celebrate the accomplishments of TAYB students past and present. This “Alumni Update” is organized by the year the participant graduated from High School or College.

My goal is to empower children and communities worldwide through ballet and this October 2018, I will be permanently moving to Nairobi, Kenya to help open the doors of ballet to children in the slums of Nairobi. I will be joining the organization Anno’s Africa as the senior ballet teacher and I am incredibly grateful to be joining Anno’s Africa’s team of African artists and believers in the power of the arts. I am also working to partner with dance organizations across East Africa to host contemporary ballet residencies. I am dedicating this next stage of my life to dance, to my connection to Africa, and to my need to become fluent in Swahili for my future arts + international development work in East Africa.

Sincerely,

Javier

*Relatedly, one of my highlights for this past year was speaking about my experience with dance for international development at Demand Solutions Miami, a TedTalk style event hosted by Miami Dade College and the Inter-American Development Bank. Watch here: goo.gl/e9vDSK

Update Letter from Javier Aranzales - Ten years ago (Summer 2008), at 13 years old, I stepped into the Thomas Armour Youth Ballet for my first ballet class. Ms. Ruth came up to Studio B to observe. 20 minutes after my first reverence (the bowing gestures of gratitude that mark the end of ballet class), Ms. Ruth awarded me a full scholarship to train at TAYB. The doors of ballet were opened to an unlikely character: a Latino immigrant from Colombia whose parents did not have the money for expensive, higher-class hobbies like ballet.

Ten years later (Summer 2018), at 23 years old, I am a Product Marketing Manager at Microsoft where I work on getting Windows devices into classrooms worldwide. However, after one year in this (really amazing) job, I have just sent in my resignation. Ballet and TAYB made me believe that I, a Latino boy who grew up in a trailer park on food stamps, was worthy of being in the spotlight, worthy of going to college when my parents did not, worthy of graduating from Harvard University, worthy*.

She and her husband, David Solomon (head carpenter at Dade County Auditorium), recently welcomed their daughter, Kara Felicity, into the world.

Robert Battle is the Artistic Director of Alvin Alley American Dance Theater. He is a graduate of the New World School of the Arts and holds a BFA in dance from The Juilliard School. He was a member of the Parsons Dance Company from 1994 to 2001, where he began setting his work in 1998. He founded Battleworks Dance Company in 2001.

Kristen Doddo was a part of the TAYB family from the age of six until the age of eighteen. She graduated from Harvard University in 2003, and the University of Miami Miller School of Medicine in 2007. She is currently an Internal Medicine/Hospitalist Physician at Baptist Hospital.

Jessica Shults-Figueroa was a member of the Miami City Ballet for 10 seasons. After leaving the company she danced with Miami Contemporary Dance Company in both a full time capacity and then later as a guest artist from 2007- 2015. In 2007 Jessica joined the faculty at TAYB where she has continues to teach today. She is married, and has 3 lovely children.

Sally Ann Kennedy was a founding Company member of Miami City Ballet, and rose to the rank of Principal Dancer during her career with that Company. She then performed with Cirque du Soleil, Maximum Dance Company and Ballet Gamonet. She is currently a Ballet Mistress with Miami Youth Ballet, and is married with one son.

Ivonne Labrada-Leichtling danced professionally with The Dance Theatre of Harlem and holds a BA from the University of Miami. Following her dance career, she became a public relations executive specializing in the entertainment, hospitality and restaurant industry. Currently, she is married and a full time mother of two daughters.

Lara Murphy graduated from NWSA High School, and holds a BA from New York University and an MA from the University of Miami. She is currently a professor and choreographer at NWSA. She has performed with several professional companies, most recently with Maximum Dance Company and Miami Contemporary Dance Company. She is the Co-Artistic Director of TAYB’s annual production of “The Nutcracker.” Her work was presented at the 2015 Dance USA national conference in Miami.

Heather Fryxell was a Principal Dancer with the Orlando Ballet for several years, and then danced with Ballet West. She is now on the principal faculty at Ballet West Academy, where they recently adopted her Adaptive Movement Mentor program. This program will reach over 100 students of special abilities in the Salt Lake and neighboring regions in the coming year.
Our sincere appreciation is extended to the TAYB
